Why is Minecraft So Popular?

Minecraft is a video game loved by both children and adults. Players use blocks to create structures and build worlds. Thousands of people buy the game every day, and millions own it. Read the article and view the video. Then write an essay in which you explain why you think this game has become so popular. If you play Minecraft, use your experience in your essay to help explain why it is much fun. What features of the game help it appeal to both children and adults?

Video games have become extremely popular in today's world. Adults and children alike spend many hours a week exploring the wonders of gaming. There are a variety of video games made to appeal to all types of audiences. For example, Mario Kart is enjoyed by little children, the Wii is often played with families, and teens and adults find enjoyment in games such as Call of Duty and Uncharted. However, there is a well-known game loved by millions of people of all ages. Minecraft is a user-friendly video game which involves players using blocks to create structures and build worlds. The popularity of this particular game continues to grow at a rapid pace. Minecraft has become very popular because it allows creativity, adventure, and has a large collection of servers accessible to anyone, so you can play with others from across the world.

Enabling creativity in video games such as Minecraft allows children to explore their imagination. In the text, it states, "The creative way, or mode, lets players get the materials they need to build. These include wood, stones, dirt, and logs, to name a few. You can build as many different things as you want – houses, castles, restaurants, airports, zoos, shops, and more!" In real life, children generally do not have opportunities to actually build and create castles, zoos, and other places. However, Minecraft's creative mode lets children be creators of entire worlds. Another example of the use of creativity in this game, is the ability to learn how to survive by hunting, building shelters, and fighting off monsters and mobs. If a person loves to be creative, Minecraft is the perfect game. Not only is Minecraft popular for its creativity, but also for its abundant add-ons. Some of theses add-ons include entering different portals such as Lord of the Rings and D.C. Comics. Portals allow adventure for all people to explore. The Official Minecraft Trailer mentions players have the ability to venture into the darkest caves and climb the steepest mountains. Also, according to the trailer, adventurous people who love rollercoasters can virtually experience the thrill of the ride. As well as creativity and adventure, Minecraft has a large collection of servers to enable you to play with others all over the world. For example, when I play Minecraft, I can am able to team up with other players from all around in order to play arcade games and player versus player games. In addition, I can choose to use different servers while playing or I can create my own server. Having access to a many servers allows me to enjoy playing with friends even if they are miles away.

Minecraft has become extremely popular due to its capability to attract players of all ages. Its many player options gives me the sense that I can do whatever I want and be whoever I want anytime. If you are someone who has an amazing imagination and loves playing video games, Minecraft should be your number one choice. Minecraft’s popularity will continue to grow as long as it appeals to the creative, adventurous, and desires to play with many from across the world.